DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 11-13 are drawn to multiple inventions, i.e., protein or nucleic acids. Therefore, the claims are included into multiple invention groups. However, election of a single invention group which includes claims 11-13 necessitates that the claims are directed only to the elected invention, and appropriate amendment of the claims are required to recite only the elected invention.

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1, 2, 7, 8, 20, and 21, drawn to polypeptides, classified in class 424, subclass 248.1.
- II. Claims 11-19, and 22, drawn to method of immunization using polypeptides, classified in class 424, subclass 9.1.
- III. Claims 3-6, 9, and 10, drawn to DNA, vector, transformed host, classified in class 536, subclass 23.7.
- IV. Claims 11-13, drawn to method of immunization using polynucleotides, classified in class 424, subclass 9.2.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case, the polypeptides of Invention I can be utilized in vitro for assays to determine if a host is infected with Mycobacteria.

Art Unit: 1645

Inventions I and III-IV are drawn to structurally and functionally distinct molecules.

Invention I is drawn to a polypeptide, while Inventions III-IV are drawn to polynucleotides.

Inventions II and III-IV are drawn to structurally and functionally distinct molecules.

Invention II is drawn to a polypeptide, while Inventions III-IV are drawn to polynucleotides.

Inventions III and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case, the polypeptides of Invention I can be utilized in vitro for hybridization assays to determine if a host is infected with Mycobacteria.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and because while the searches may overlap, the searches are not coextensive, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
